MEETING RIDER DEMAND

Demand for Dial-a-Ride doubled – and then nearly doubled again – in the last three years.

From 12,000 trips in 2011 to 46,000 trips last year, North Township Trustee Frank Mrvan said the numbers – and the stories of those who use the service – tell the story of a program that is highly valued and much needed.

For Amber Price, Dial-a-Ride is a critical link toward fulfilling her dream to a degree in human development and a career working with children with special needs.

“Because of Dial-a-Ride, I am able to get to my classes at Purdue Calumet four days a week. Without it, I wouldn’t be able to attend school at all. You see, I am blind,” she said. “I’ve been using the service for three years and the drivers couldn’t be nicer. I’m grateful for the opportunity the service provides.”

Hammond resident, Wayne Januszewski uses the service to get to doctor visits, physical therapy appointments and grocery shopping.

“If not for Dial-a-Ride, I’d be up a creek without a paddle,” said Januszewski, who hasn’t

Three new para-transit buses have been added to the North Township fleet. One will replace an obsolete bus while the other two will help meet the increasing need for on-demand transportation in the township.

been able to drive in more than three years. They do a lot for me and I am grateful.”

It is those stories that keep Mrvan hunting for funding. “We are applying for a two-year extension on our existing grant and searching for other programs that could help. We have done everything we can to make the service as efficient as possible. There is a growing need for transit we will continue to try to fill.” ▲

RESERVATIONS: Dial-a-Ride operates Monday through Friday except holidays. Email dial-a-ride@ntto.net or call (219) 932-2530. Follow the prompts and push #4.

Cemetery Manager Kelly Vicari said 563 veterans’ graves will be decorated that day.

CEMETERY FUND-RAISER

North Township is planning a July fund-raiser for much-needed improvements at Oak Hill Cemetery in Hammond. The gateway to the grounds will need an investment of as much as $50,000 to refurbish the entrance and keep the gates in working order.

MOBILE RESOURCE FAIR TO HELP INDIVIDUALS FIND BALANCE

North Township, Geminus Corporation and North Shore Health Centers are teaming up to help the community to become a little more Zen – and they are taking their mobile resource fair on the road.

The partners are planning events in April and May designed to showcase and assist in building a community better prepared to handle the rigors of life.

Martin Zunig, community outreach coordinator for North Shore, believes maintaining balance between eight core components – from the spiritual, social and emotional, to the financial, physical, intellectual, environmental and occupational – makes for happier individuals and families.

“We are tapping a host of resources, from bankers and tax preparers to yoga instructors and college planners, to showcase the many free and low-cost options available,” said Albert Gay, North Township Community That Cares Coordinator for Geminus. “This is about each individual finding the perfect blend that brings homeostasis to their lives.” ▲

MARK YOUR CALENDARS

The fairs will be held from noon to 6 p.m. April 9 at the Circle of Services and from 1 to 6 p.m. May 19 at Roxanna Community Center, 900 Shell Street, East Chicago.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES ABOUND AT UPCOMING JOB FAIR

Plans are in the works to make North Township's 2015 Job Fair one for the record books.

The 2014 day-long employment opportunity attracted 25 employers and 400 individuals.

Resource Coordinator Cindy Rivera is already lining up employers, who will be hiring in the months to come.

"Employers sending representatives to the job fair include some of the region's largest industries as well as businesses of all sizes," she said. "We post on the North Township Trustee website what companies are coming so that people can be prepared. Our hope is that most people apply before the Job Fair and are able to treat the job fair as the interview for the position."

Rivera considers the LinkedIn seminar held earlier in the day as valuable as the job fair.

"That free seminar helps people learn how to network online," she said. "It helps individuals who may not have experience with social media build contacts and put themselves out there to potential employers." ▲

ABOUT THE 2015 JOB FAIR

WHEN: Thursday, May 14
LINKEDIN SEMINAR: 9:30 a.m.
JOB FAIR: 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

INFO: Call Cindy Rivera at (219) 803-0659.

NEW JOB COORDINATOR

Employment coordinator Dawn Stevens has been on the job for just two months but she is already making strides in finding out where local employers are hiring and helping her clients apply.

After assisting North Township residents through the grueling steps of creating a professional resume, she spends part of each workday combing through online job-finder websites.

"My job is helping people use the tools that will help them find gainful, rewarding employment," she said. "After the resumé is completed, I apply for jobs with them to take the fear out of the experience."

To reach Dawn, call (219) 932-2530 ext. 305.

LETTER FROM THE NORTH TOWNSHIP TRUSTEE

Our latest partnership helps train individuals for local industrial technology jobs at Praxair

I have always believed partnerships have the ability to transform lives and communities in ways no single initiative can. It seems in North Township, the more we branch out and team up, the better the return.

I am reminded of this as I look around the region and see the partnerships we have forged, which include some of the largest and most established industries in the country.

Today, we are working with education stand-outs Purdue Calumet and Ivy Tech to provide top-of-the-line training for our residents, who want to find good-paying jobs, while serving the needs of Praxair, one of the largest providers of industrial gases in the world.

Resource Coordinator Cindy Rivera is working with the company, which has offices in East Chicago and Hammond, to train individuals in very specific areas of industrial technology.

Praxair managers are partnering with North Township and the two colleges to train would-be workers to meet their needs. While Purdue works through its Project AWAKE – a workforce training initiative – Ivy Tech has offered to house equipment donated by Praxair for hands-on training.

It's one of those wonderful collaborations where everyone wins. Our township residents get education that equips them for bright futures. Praxair solidifies its workforce with local people. Purdue Calumet and Ivy Tech fulfill their mission of workforce education.

It's the kind of community benefit that is amplified with each entity that comes to the table and we, at North Township, are pleased to be a catalyst in the effort. ▲

GRANT HELPS REPLACE TREES LOST TO EMERALD ASH BORER

When the weather became too inclement for duffers, the grounds crews at Wicker Memorial Park got busy. Between November and February, the crews removed 108 mature trees dying from infestation by the emerald ash borer.

By May, those same crews will begin planting sapling replacements to bring back the shade canopy along holes 5, 6, 14 and 15.

Park Superintendent Brett Bierman said 72 new trees, including birch, oaks and tulips, will be planted thanks to a $9,000 Indiana Department of Natural Resources grant.

WHAT'S NEXT?

Over the course of the next two years, crews will repeat the process, removing another 275 trees in fall and winter and planting replacements in the spring.

EASTER EGG ETIQUETTE

While snow was still on the ground, some of the Easter Bunny's favorite helpers were getting busy filling a whopping 15,000 brightly colored eggs in preparation for North Township's annual Easter Egg hunt.

The Easter Bunny knows just how excited children – and their parents – get when it comes to hunting for eggs and has some friendly advice when it comes to making the day the best one ever.

Because there are so many children who participate each year, the township limits each child to filling their basket with six eggs.

As a parent, it's tempting to want to step in. Please don't. This egg hunt is planned to be a fun and memorable event for your child. Let them take their time and have fun.

Please talk to your child before the hunt and remind them to have fun and be kind.

The township recycles plastic eggs to be used for next year's hunt. After you take the prizes out of the egg, look for bins strategically placed at the park just for Easter eggs.

9TH ANNUAL EASTER EGG HUNT

BRIDGES OF CARE EAGER TO MOVE ORGANIZATION FORWARD IN 2015

Lake Area United Way has joined East Chicago Bridges of Care, a collaboration that began as a means to address critical challenges in East Chicago, including community and family support, economic opportunity, education, health and public safety.

Convened under the umbrella of Calumet College of St. Joseph and anchored by organizations, such as North Township and Legacy Foundation, Angie Williams, director of community impact for United Way, said the short-term goal is to empower Bridges of Care work teams to move the organization forward.

"In 2015, stakeholders and work teams are coming together to develop priorities and set measurable goals to help propel the East Chicago community forward," Williams said. "We are working to create a uniform process every team can follow and investing in helping team leaders gain the necessary skills to position their groups for success."

The Foundations of East Chicago started Bridges of Care in 2007 as a core group dedicated to improving the social fabric of the community through partnerships both inside and outside the city. ▲
